4. to accept the controls of the obligatory material that can be carried out in every moment of the competition by the members of the organization in charge and to be aware that the lack or the malfunctioning of only one of the obligatory materials among the equipment me carried in the race can determine my disqualification from the competition;
5. to accept the unquestionable judgment of the members of the organization responsible for checking the mandatory materials;
6. to be absolutely aware of the length and specificity of the competition and to be perfectly prepared to face it, both physically and psychologically;
7. to have acquired, before the competition, a real capacity for personal autonomy in the mountains to better manage the problems related to this type of competition and in particular:
 - a) knowing how to deal with climatic conditions alone and without help that could become difficult due to altitude (night, wind, cold, fog, rain, snow or other adverse weather conditions);

- b) be able to manage, even if you are isolated, the physical or psychological problems that may arise due to the great tiredness, including, for example, gastrointestinal problems, muscle or joint pain, small wounds, etc.;
- c) to be aware that the role of the organization and the third parties appointed by it is not to help a runner handle these problems and that, for mountain running, safety depends on the rider's ability to adapt to the problems encountered and / or predictable;
- d) to be aware that during the competition there may be risks of any kind for my safety and / or my personal effects and that these risks may not be previously reported to me by the organization and / or its members and / or third parties designated by it and that even if such risks are reported by the organization and / or its members and / or by third parties designated by it or in any case provide me with safety equipment, my safety and security may not be equally guaranteed;
8. to commit myself to run, as an athlete, in the specific route indicated by the organization and only in this path;
9. to exempt the organization "ASD Esclamative", the race director and the person responsible for the path from any civil and criminal liability regarding any and all damages and / or accidents and / or illness and / or death and / or loss that may incur my person and / or personal effects that I carry with me before, during and after the competition in any way, even after carefully following the instructions and directives of the organization;
10. to authorize as of now the medical staff responsible for providing me the necessary first aid if, during my participation in the competition, I need an injury of any kind and at that time is not conscious and / or full of my mental faculties;
11. to commit myself not to use alcohol or doping substances and / or drugs before and / or during my participation in the competition, being aware that the organization will be able to take action against me, in the event that it causes damage to image of the same for the use of doping and / or narcotic substances and / or for the lack of respect for the environment during the competition;
12. to be aware that the organization can make use of personnel, belonging to law enforcement or not, to carry out checks along the route of the competition and to refer back to the decisions of the same, in case of any claims of infringement of the Regulations and commitments undertaken with this declaration or in case of suspension or interruption of competition due to force majeure.

I also declare to take full and exclusive civil and criminal liability, freeing the organization and third parties designated by it (including the respective directors and members, collaborators, consultants, suppliers and volunteers) from any and all liability for any damage, loss or injury fatal that I myself and / or my personal effects may suffer during my participation in the competition, whatever the cause, even in the case of negligent conduct of the aforementioned subjects released, subject to the limits of the law. I also declare to take full and exclusive civil and criminal liability for any and all damages, even fatal, possibly caused to me by third parties and / or property owned by third parties.
